DEDICATION

With gratitude and appreciation, we, the Senior Class of 1948, dedicate this book to Mr. W. F. McCanless for his years of conscientious instruction, and his unfailing service to the pupils of Mayodan High School.

IN MEMORIAM

A cordial smile, a friendly wave of the hand, an amicable greeting were characteristic of our beloved friend, H. Roy Martin. We, the class of 1948, mourn his death and humbly offer "The Anchor" as a tribute to his memory.

ADMINISTRATION

~ FOREWORD ~

IDEALS AND LIFE

Perhaps the most prized possession of living human beings aside from the possession of life itself, is the ability so to order his life that he may feel secure in that life and his other possessions. Every human being desires the orderliness that makes him sure that when he wants to use one of his possessions he can put out his hand and take it or use it. It is just as true about the orderliness of other things. It is part of his sense of security.

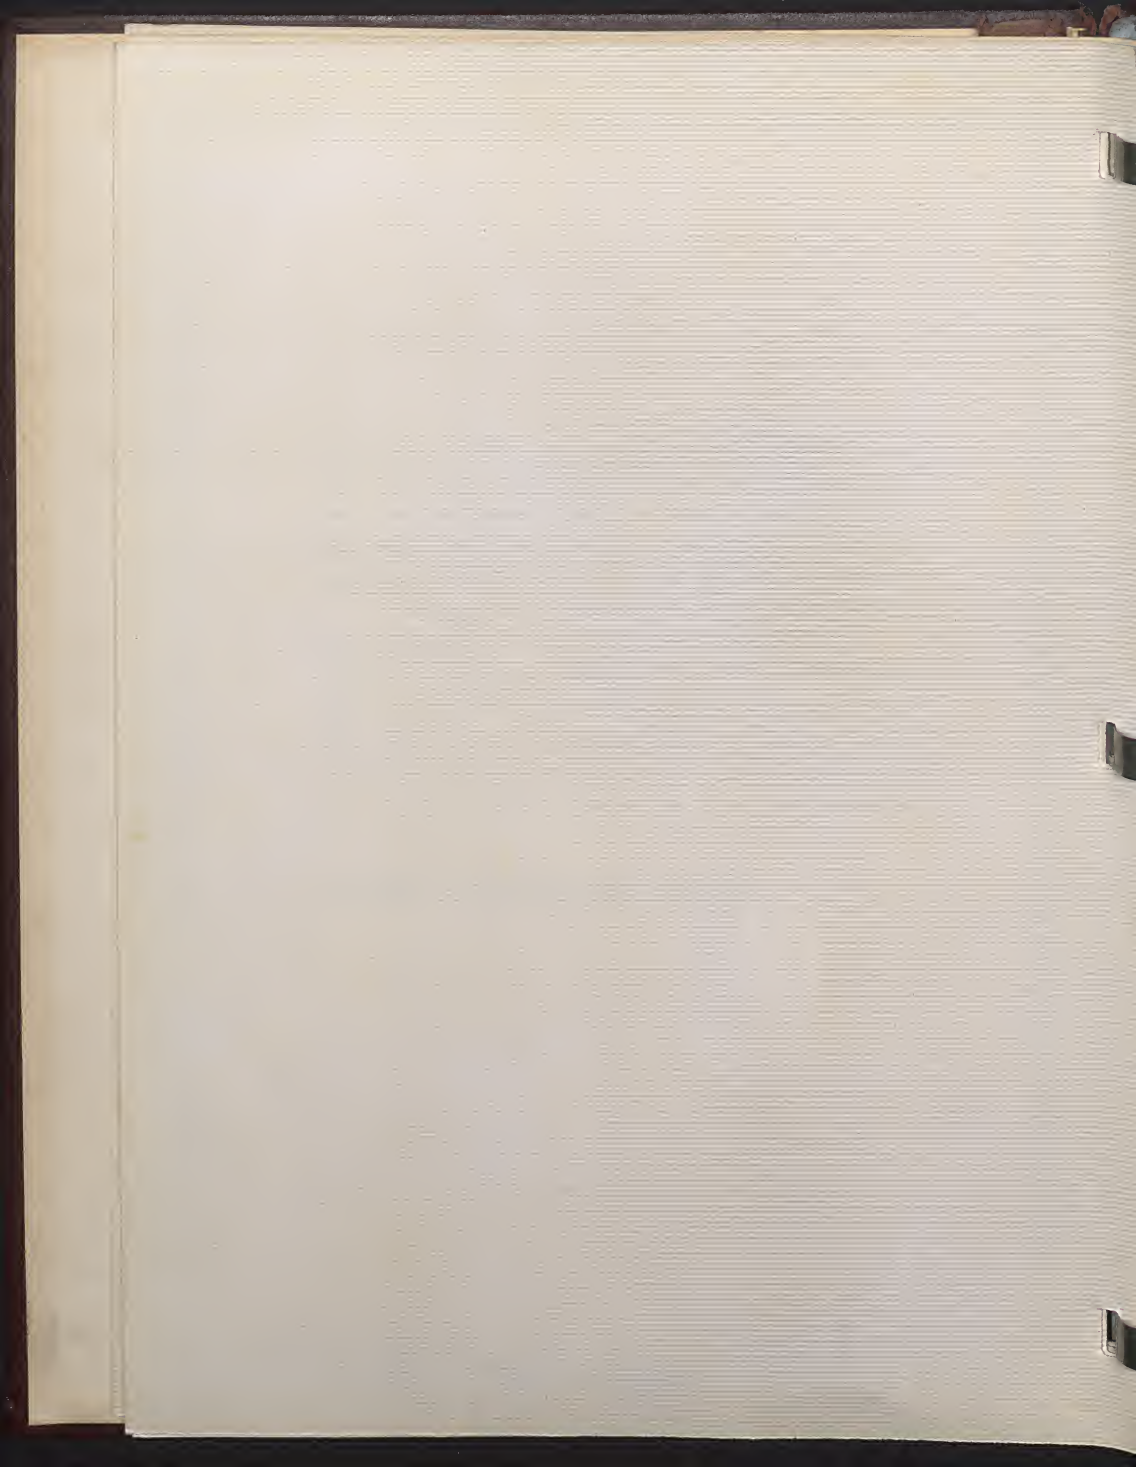

If one would stop to think, one would realize that it was because of someone's ideals that the possibility of having just such orderliness exists. For orderliness suggests method, and method suggests planning, and planning suggests ideals. We thus find that ideals--someone's ideals--furnish the pattern from which the comforts and the finer things of life take shape.

For it must not be assumed that orderliness with regard to material possessions, great as we feel it, is alone under consideration here. The same ideals that make one secure in one's material possessions and comforts are patterns that give shape to the long list of rights, both civil and religious, man is heir to. The orderliness that permeates every phase of life is the outgrowth of ideals. For ideals are not, as some view them, evanescent dreams. They are forces that find fruition in deeds. They become absorbed into the life of an individual and give that life a direction, a consistency, and a continuity. They do not die, but live on and on even after their owner is dust.

Somewhere along the highway of the dim past, someone had an ideal. He worked on it and spoke of it often, for it was dearer far than his life. At length the man "fell on sleep," but people were impressed, and his ideals found lodgment in many a heart. His body went back to dust, but the man became immortal in the ideals he passed on to his followers.

In some such way your Principal, your teachers, your fellow-students, your school--all are candidates for an immortality that shall come from ideals they fostered and you took up and lived and that others after you in turn lived, and still others on and on. For ideals are not only life in its best essentials, but a sort of eternal life as well.

CLASS OFFICERS

~ CLASS POEM ~

We the Class of '48
Must now be on our way
Many years we've studied hard
For Graduation Day.

Many times We've been discouraged
Though it seemed we couldn't make the grade
But our teachers were behind us
So we weren't too much afraid.

Various trials have beset us
But everything came out all right
We've made friends, had lots of fun
Especially banquet night.

We hate to leave Ole Mayodan High
Its like a second Home
So we hope you want forget us
No matter where we roam.

Much happiness we've had together
And our school work is almost done
We will always love each other
Until the victory is won.

As all things must come to an end
Our friendship, love, and work must not fall
But strive for better lives and homes to win
And make life worth while after all.

Though now we bid a fond farewell
To pals and teachers today
We're sure that we will meet again
Upon life's broad highway.

By Virginia Williams

Class History

Our class of forty-four members entered high school in 1944 under the guidance of Miss Lorraine Shropshire, our home room teacher. Our class officers were: President, Margaret Martin; Vice President, Joan Minton; Secretary, Donny Montgomery; Treasurer, Edna East.

During our sophomore year, we had several teachers: Mrs. Ila Hooker, Mrs. Jane McNaught, Lt. G. W. Holmes, and Miss Hildreth Gabriel. Our Class was interested in basketball. Those who represented us were: Viola Case, Margaret Martin, Donny Montgomery, Bill Robertson, Ray Martin, and Glenn Reddick.

Our class officers were: President, Edna East; Vice-president, Ralph Anderson; Secretary, Virginia Williams; Treasurer, Herbert Furgason.

We Started our Junior year under the leadership of Miss Sue Vick. Only one of our classmates dropped during this year. Fred Barrow left to enter the United States Navy.

Since our class had such a busy year starting, we felt it necessary to elect capable officers who were: President Margaret Martin; Vice President, Jo Alice Joyce; Secretary, and Treasurer, Virginia Williams.

Everyone was eager to get started to work for their Junior-Senior Banquet, as it was the first experience of a banquet for most of the pupils. We worked enough to have the banquet go over with a bang. The Banquet was given at Grogan's Tourist Court.

Our class had been very useful in taking part in athletics that year. Taking part from the eleventh grade were Margaret Martin, Viola Case, Mackie Martin, Jo Alice Joyce, Donny Montgomery, Glenn Reddick, Bill Robertson, Ray Martin, and Ralph Anderson.

Our class began this year, our senior year, under the leadership of Mrs. John Nicholson, the former Miss Frances Jordan. We have spent a busy year, working on the High School Annual and raising funds for a gift to the school.

This year will leave us with many cherished memories. We will long remember the Junior-Senior Banquet, the Halloween Carnival, the Christmas parties, the delightful trip to Fairy Stone Park, Class Day, and Graduation.

The following Seniors were members of the Varsity Basketball squad: Donny Montgomery, Bill Robertson, Glenn Reddick, Leonard Atkins, Raymond Case, Ray Martin, Viola Case, and Mackie Martin. Donny Montgomery served as President of the Athletic Association.

Senior Class officers were: President, Virginia Williams; Vice President, Donny Montgomery; Secretary, Louise Martin; Treasurer, Edna East.

CLASS

PROPHECY

Time-----In the year 1958

Place-----New York City, N.Y.

Scene-----In the home of the famous fortune teller, Madam La Zomba

Setting-----As the curtain rises, Madam La Zomba is seen sitting behind her crystal ball, talking with Bobby Cooke.

Bobby: Madam La Zomba, I am in search of information of my high school classmates. I have been overseas for several years, and I have lost contact with all of my classmates.

Madam La Zomba: That will be very easy to do my dear. When and where did you finish high school?

Bobby: I graduated with the class of '48 in Mayodan, North Carolina.

Madam La Zomba: From Mayodan? This is indeed a coincidence. Only last week I visited in your home town and no doubt I met many of your old friends. Of course, you remember Tommy Watson. He is the town's most sought-after bachelor. He has acquired a fortune with his invention of the leadless pencil.

Three of your classmates Bill Robertson, Glenn Reddick, and Ray Martin are now famous poker experts. They have been touring the states this past year giving lectures, but still not giving their secrets away.

Donny Montgomery and Viola Case have been married for several years and are living in Chapel Hill, where Donny is head of the Department of Physical Education at the University.

Louise Martin is now singing in the Grand Ole Operery. You can hear her broadcast on Saturday nights from Nashville, Tennessee.

Raymond Case is coaching boxing at the Y.M.C.A. in Greensboro. He is happily married to the former Margaret Brown of Greensboro.

Leonard Atkins is playing basketball with the Shiny Rock Wolfpacks. Leonard says that he will continue to chase after Nancy Clark until she catches him. (Leap Year)

Jo Alice Joyce is doing ballet dancing in New York City. Her dancing instructor is Toby Griffin.

Mackie Martin is now dietician expert for Pet Milk Company. She has taken over the well-known Mary Lee Taylor broadcast.

Emma Lee Ladd and Virginia Lawson are owners & operators of the Lee Law Restaurants in the south.

Bobby: I have often wondered what Mack Thacker is doing now. Is he by any chance in the moving pictures?

Madam: No--Mack Thacker has been attending Opossum Town University for the past seven years. He is still a freshman.

Edna East after wondering what her career should be for so long is a present manager and owner of Pluto's Beauty Salon. This is what her advertising reads: Attention all Dogs & Cats--Pluto's Beauty Salon--Your patronage will be appreciated.

Joan Minton is a resident physician at the Baptist Hospital in Winston Salem, N.C.

Doris Pyrtle is also living in Winston Salem and teaching music at the Salem College.

Jack Murray is now superintendent of the Washington Mills Company Inc.

Mrs. Clifford Grogan, the former Marie Perdue, is now bookkeeper for Herbert B. Purgason who is manager and owner of Purgason's Super Screw Driver Factory.

Bobby Johnson is tobacco auctioneer of the Mayodan-Madison Warehouse.

Mildred Wall is now married to Gene Freeman and is teaching school in Mayodan.

Ralph Anderson is directing a play on Broadway this season in which Padgett and Nicholson are the leading ladies.

Bobby: Thank you, Madam La Zomba. Its good to know that some of my classmates are here in New York and that I will have an opportunity to see them.

GIFTORIAN

To Viola Case, we give this pair of glasses so that she may watch Donny's every movement.

To Edna East, we give this racer to speed you up.

To Jo Alice Joyce, we give this "Modern Romance" which tells how to keep "The Man I Love". (Watch out Toby)

To Emma Lee Ladd, we give the "business" (typing eraser, paper, and sheet of carbon paper,

To Virginia Lawson, we give, so that she may love, honor, cook, sweep, and sew for him, this little man.

To Louise Martin, the class baby, we give this genuine baby rattler.

To Mackie Martin, we give a megaphone to carry even farther those yells.

To Joan Minton, we give this box of stationery for foreign correspondence.

To Marie Perdue, we give this telephone to carry on your long conversations.

To Doris Pyrtle, we give this comb and brush so that she may continue to keep her lovely hair well groomed.

To Mildred Wall, we give this "goat" to remind her of her English Classes.

To Virginia Williams, whose dangerous curves will worry the highway department, we give this French Bathing Suit,

To Ralph Anderson, we give this book of driving instructions for the left hand.

To Leonard Atkins, we give a tube of Ipana so that you'll never lose that Ipana smile.

To Raymond Case, the ten o'clock scholar, we give this extra loud alarm clock.

To Bobby Cooke, we give this ticket. We know you'll get into the movies if you'll hand it to the man in the Pickwick.

To Ray Martin, we give this pair of stilts to raise you to the level of the Senior Class.

To Donny Montgomery, we give his heart's desire, a little nigger doll.

To Jack Murray, we give this fan and hope you meet a dancer.

To Herbert Purgason, the sweetest boy, we give this jar of honey to keep him that way.

To Gleen Reddick, we give these ear plugs so that your sleep will not be disturbed by the teacher.

To Bill Robertson, we give an athletic shirt for use in your basketball catech.

To Mack Thacker, since you are so interested in the latest fashions, we give you this copy of "Vogue".

To Tommy Watson, we give this autographed picture of "Choo Choo" and Snavelly to have and to hold.

CLASS

WILL

We, the class of '48, being of sound mind, on this first day of June, in the year of 1948 do declare this writing to be our last will and testament, hereby revoking and making void all other testimonial writings heretofore made us. Do hereby will and bequeath, all property, real and personal to bestowed as followers:

To the Freshmen, we leave four years of opportunities for growing physically, mentally, socially, and emotionally into good citizens.

To the Sophomores, we leave school spirit and a desire to keep Mayodan the best school.

To the Juniors, we leave the thrill of being upper classman, of getting rings, and of counting credits.

To the Seniors, we leave our dignity, our hopes for graduation and the feeling that at last we are on the top.

To Mayodan High, we leave our gratitude for the foundation upon which we shall now build our lives.

To the Faculty, we leave the peace of mind they gained upon our leaving.

TO INDIVIDUALS:

Viola Case leaves her ability to play basketball to Patsy Joyce.

Marie Perdue leaves her ability of long conversation and witty remarks to Barbara Veach.

Jo Alice Joyce leaves her love for boys to Patsy Martin.

To Tommy White, Bobby Cooke leaves his laugh.

To Mary Lou Williams, Doris Pyrtle leaves her beautiful red hair.

To Lincoln Pike goes Ray Martin's ability to pass a basketball.

To Gwen Wray, Herbert Purgason leaves his quietness.

Ralph Anderson leaves his bashfulness to Earlene Landreth.

Mackie Martin leaves her flirtation to Barbara Veach.

To Libby Atkins, Earlene Landreth, and Dolores Fulp, Edna East leaves her love for the country.

Donny Montgomery leaves his good looks to Tommy Barrow.

Louise Martin leaves her voice to Corrine Hall.

Mildred Wall leaves her cuteness to Gwyn Wray.

Emma Lee Ladd leaves her typing record to Patsy Joyce.

Glenn Reddick's love for bookkeeping goes to Tommy Barrow.

Bill Robertson leaves his physique to Lincoln Pike.

Raymond Case leaves his ability to get to school on time to Nancy and Mickey Myers.

Mack Thacker leaves his love for clothes to Corrine Hall.

To Tommy White, Tommy Watson leaves his desire to become an undertaker.

To Mary Lou Williams, Bobby Johnson leaves his willingness to study.

Jack Murray leaves his success with girls to Gwyn Wray.

Leonard Atkins leaves his hopes for a successful farm life to Dolores Fulp.

Virginia Lawson's love for Home Ec. goes to Libby Atkins and Dolores Fulp.

To Nancy and Mickey Myers, Virginia Williams leaves her perfect attendance.

Joan Minton just wants to LEAVE.

JUNIORS

~ ONE FOR THE MONEY ~

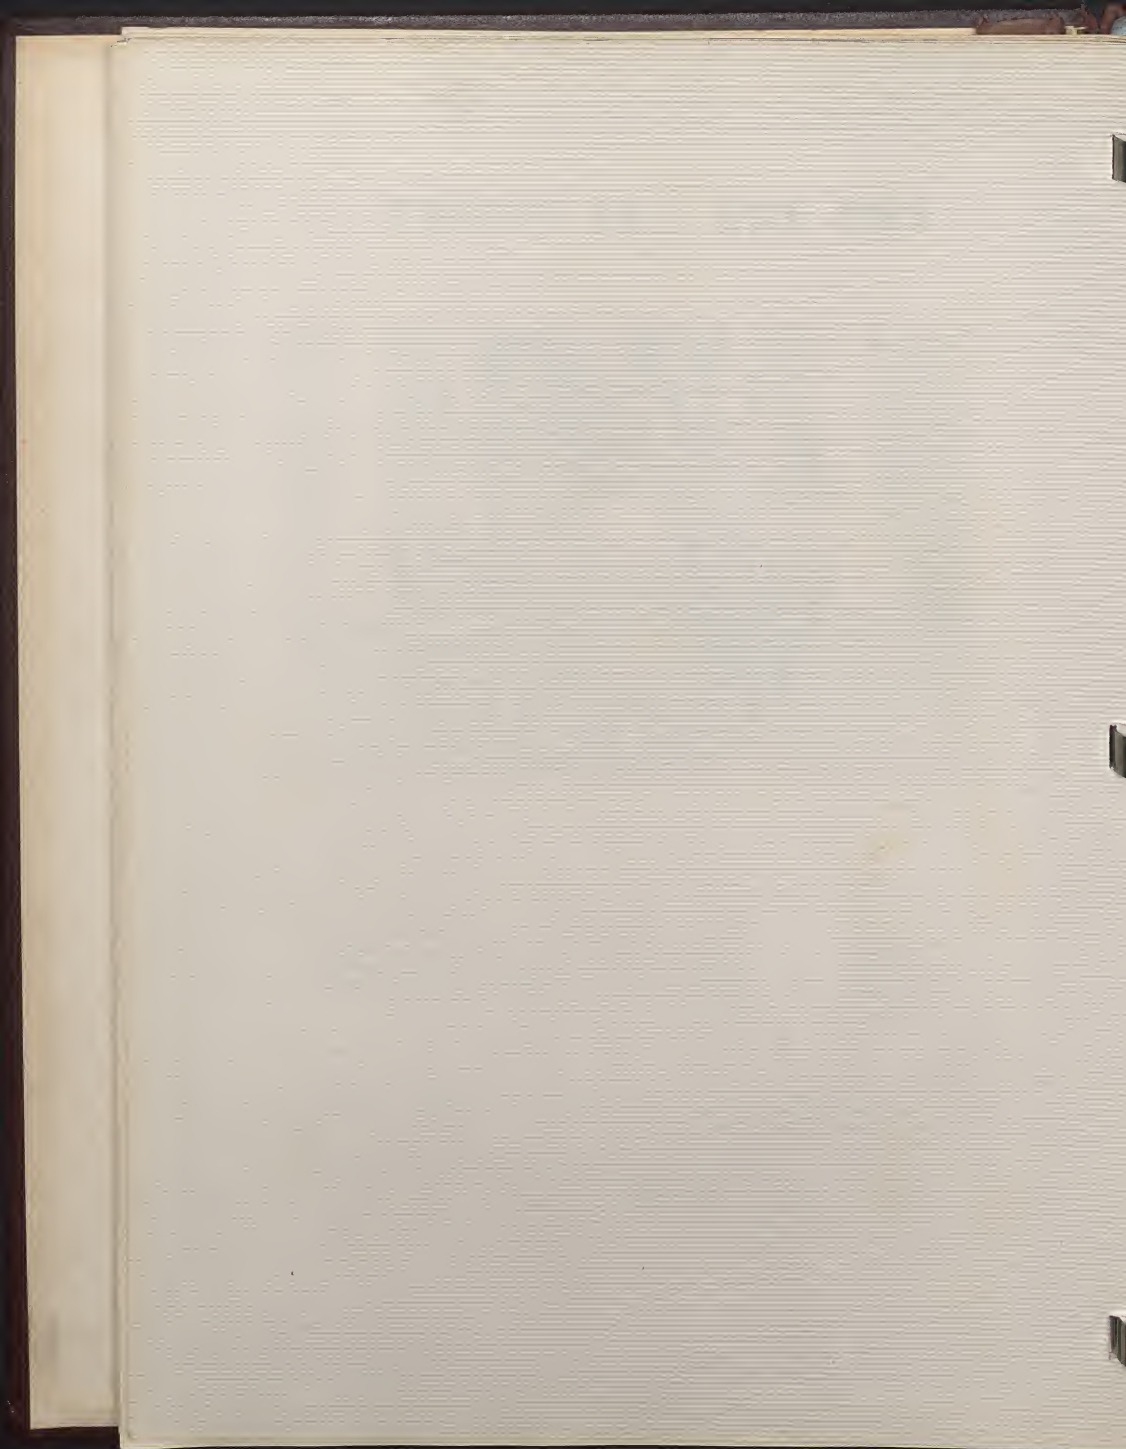

The Junior Class started their school year under the leadership of Mr. Walter F. McCanless. Since the class had a busy year starting, they felt it necessary to elect capable officers who are listed as follows: President-Corinne Hall; Vice Pres. Tommy Barrow; Secretary-Treasurer Barbara Veach; and Reporter Patsy Martin.

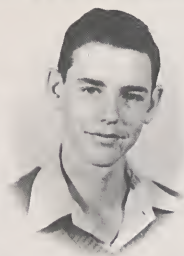

We lost 6 of our classmates to the Senior Class because they took extra subjects in order to graduate a year early.

This year the class will sponsor the Jr.-Sr. Banquet. We hope it goes over with a bang because this is our first experience with a banquet.

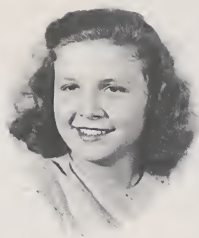

Several of our class members have joined in the school sports. They are: Barbara Veach, Patsy Martin, Patsy Joyce, Tommy Barrow, and Lincoln Pike.

We are looking forward to next year when we will wear our caps and gowns.

How do you do, May I present
Forty-five pupils with no brain content
Who entered Mayodan Hi in "46"
To learn of English and Algebra tricks.
Miss Gladys Joyce, who taught us then
Understood what a strain we were in.

So this year we have arrived
With the knowledge through her derived,
Miss Padgett, a new teacher here
Is our teacher, but teaches us no subjects
this year.

We have made plans for a Variety Show
To Sponsor the "Junior and Senior Banquet"
Which we share with our beau,
That's all the history that would interest you
So, until next year are bid you "Adieu"!

FRESHMEN

~ THREE MAKES READY ~

On the 5th of September, 1947, our class entered high school scared and excited. We started out with 42 pupils and since then we have lost several who dropped out to go to work. Miss Gladys Joyce has helped us over the largest bumps in our road going ahead and we hope that no other members of our class drop out. Our group has also contributed to athletics on the basketball team. Those representing our class are: Connis Gray, Janice Joyce, Bobby Myers, Peggy Collins, and Mickey Pike.

Basketball practice was begun this season by a small but determined group of girls.

Coached by Miss Padgett, the team won their first game. In spite of their zeal and spirit, they saw but two more victories during the season.

The sportsmanship of the team, the privilege of playing more experienced teams, and the ability to play together as a group are invaluable gains. The fighting spirit of the team leads one to believe that next year's team will accept the challenge and win or lose with the same grace and good will as this year's team.

Viola Case, the only veteran player, was high scorer. The team improved a great deal during the season.

Referee.....Ed Price

Players....Ralph Anderson, Tommy Barrow, Lincoln
Pike, Donny Montgomery, Bill Robertson,
Bobby Cooke, Billy Glidewell, Johnny
Martin, Ray Martin, Clyde Vernon, Glenn
Reddick, Leonard Atkins, and Raymond Case

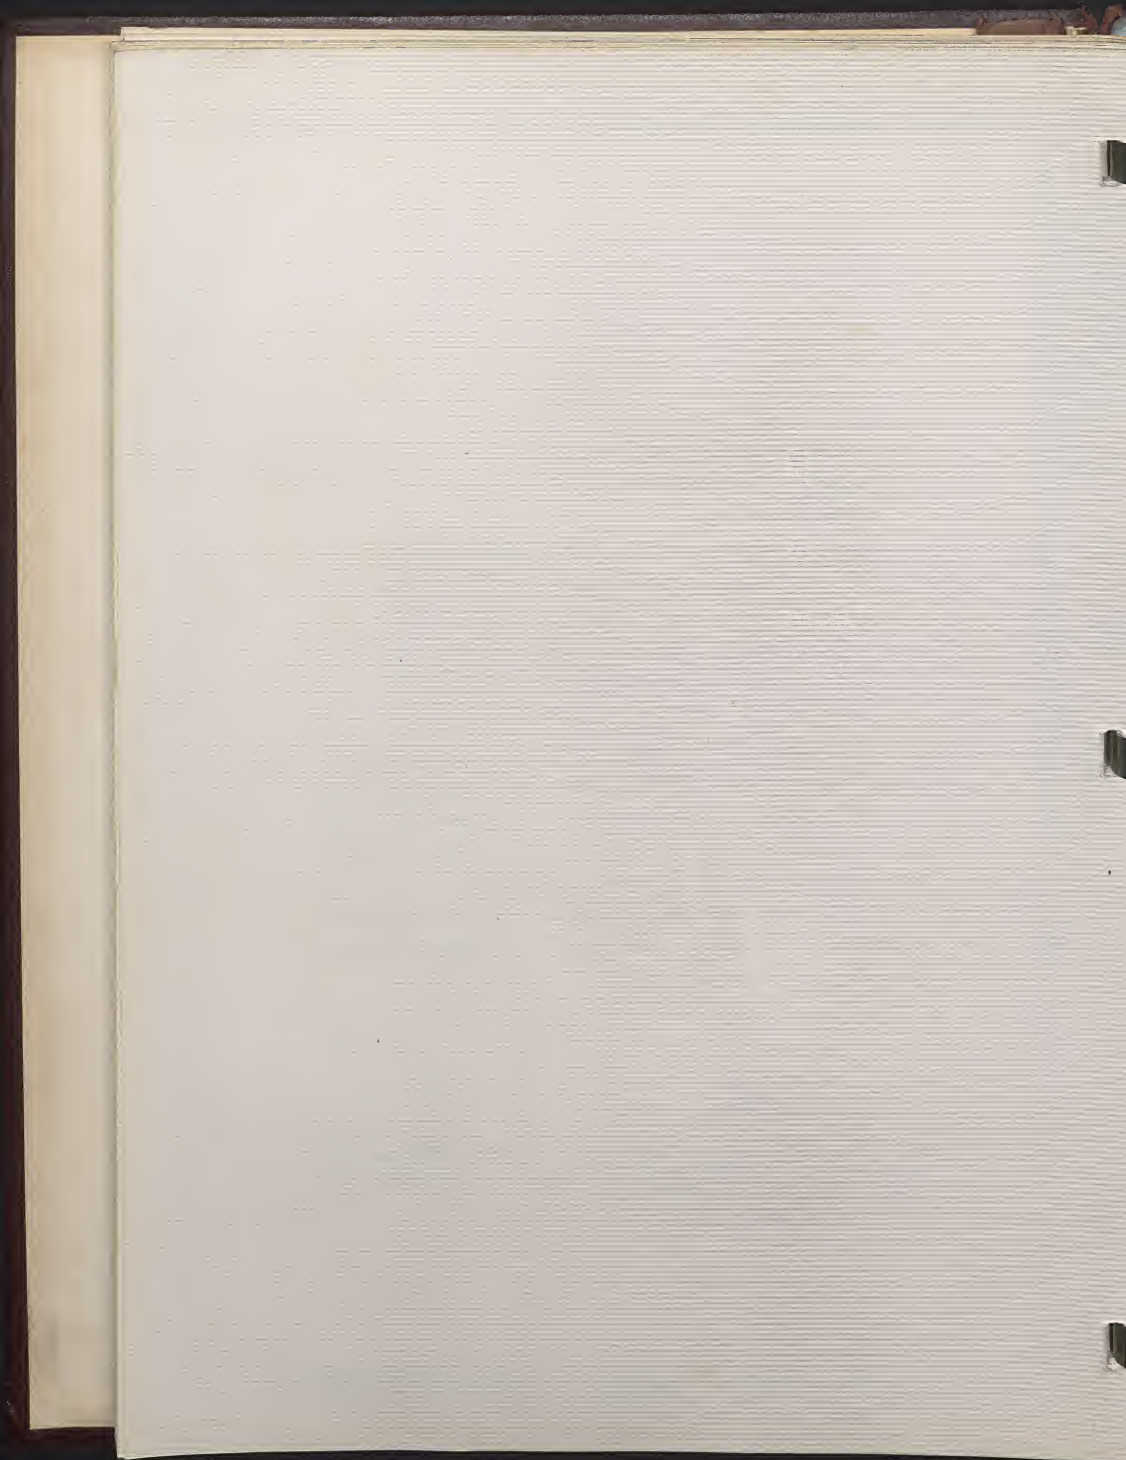

With only two veteran players returning, the boys began their basketball practice with high hopes and eager hearts.

Playing hard and fast with a do-or-die spirit, the team gave its opponents a good fight. In spite of their concentrated effort, however, the victories were few.

In the Journal-Sentinel Tournament, the boys won their first game by defeating Linwood High. In the game with Scott High they were not so successful.

Mr. Goodman, the coach, expressed a belief that since most of next year's team will be experienced players, the boys will be tougher opponents for the other county teams.

Donny Montgomery was the best all-round player giving unfailingly his support to the team. Ralph Anderson played with purpose and determination and should be commended for it. The team improved during the season.
